My dear Bishop

I have waited to offer my grateful thanks for your kind & welcome letter of last Nov. 4, till I could send you the enclosed document to which your self's name was not added when I first received it. The dear good man I cannot say is now much altered.
He has been in great danger of an apoplexy phetic attack, & the tendency of blood to his head has caused him to lose the sight of one of his eyes. He is now in hope on a judicious system, & by God's blessing we trust he may be restored again to perfect sight & the health of a peer of age. You little is indeed much beloved to us all & we trust that tho' the Trustees are unable to do all you wish, & all with yet that is an 2 resolution & you we shall have expected an sentiment in such manner as may crown you wise intention. I had hoped I might have suggested good the biggest plan of a young Leader of the 4,000 being suggested by you to him & was convinced to find it would not do.

And anxiously however do I hope & pray that your wishes for obtaining the Knox Co land may be realized.
To hear of the character of you in this or the subject does not surprise me: indeed I should be mortified if such result were not peacefully purchased as a reward to all your pious labours & zeal. Your excellent help meet does indeed warmly engage our veneration & affection & I pray God that you & she may long be continued blessed instruments to this of extending christian education in the true principles of the Church of Christ & only Saviour. Still in the spirit of every body's confiding in all an here I cannot but feel and as the in a part of labour to which you are both subjected, tho' I said much confidence in His will who knows what is best & who is with not fail His lightness who trust in Him

expand themselves
in His holy cause.

I saw a nice letter on Monday
from Mr. Digby
at College

friend of mine & good of which he mentions you & your cause with great affection. He is an excellent man a Parson of Worcester & was in his care I left you at the Clergy & Sch. examination when I went to make the Bk of Oxford's Prayer useful against the Claims of the Papists.

Dear G. M. H. I thank God quite well again & I trust is likely to be an appointment better calculated to agree with his health than our law pursuits have done. You will believe how delighted we feel at your ever hinting at the possibility of your well, and I thank God all our prayers or phrases. They all cordially wish it made a pro-gressful visit with your most obliged and affectionate friend Kenyon
